Inspiration STATION!

Each season, as I start to think about new collections and products, I assemble an idea wall in my office. I place postcards and ephemera alongside favorite paintings, juxtapose photos of my garden against antique botanical prints, and add color swatches, fabric samples, and interesting textures. All this creates an inspirational backdrop for the new lines I design.

It's a solo process, so it's both important and exciting to see how others respond to the results. Michel Design Works' production, sales, and marketing teams provide professional feedback. Family and friends offer their personal opinions—and so do complete strangers. Recently I walked through the airport wearing one of the scarves we're introducing this spring (see photo), and several people stopped me to say how much they liked it and to ask where they could buy one. Just the reaction I was hoping for!

Most important is the response from you, our valued customers. All of us at Michel Design Works hope you like the designs and products we're introducing this season, including decorative cotton pillows, new tin ware—and the scarves. We look forward to hearing from you!

Best wishes, Deborah Michel
